Sermon: "But Deliver Us From The Evil One."

We believe that the spiritual realm is real. The secular world sees reality merely in terms of good versus bad. We see it in terms of the holy versus evil. Tonight let's grapple with evil. Let's pray for one another in the areas where we are under attack. Let's be alert to how the evil one may be moving against us. To begin:

Ask everyone to share their God stories since last you met.

Offer up a prayer of thanks... not just general but specific.

Questions.

1. What in this sermon stood out to you?
 - What personally convicted you in this sermon? Which scriptures?
 - Are you going to approach anything differently?
2. Jesus had a direct encounter with the evil one right after His baptism. And multiple New Testament writers assure us that Satan is just as surely after each of us personally.
 - What happened after your baptism? Did you have doubt afterwards? Why?
 - Have you ever had what you would consider a direct encounter with the evil one?
 - Have you ever come face to face with pure evil?
 - I said in my sermon that there is only one way to stand against evil: You have to take your stand on holy ground; you have to stand together; and you have to stay alert and pray for one another.
 - What do you think we need to be alert to right now?

How does your group stand together right now?

Close: Pray for the evils that each of you is facing... Not just your sick list, but the evils that you face. Pray for one another that God will deliver you.
